

CULTURAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT (CRM) FIELD SCHOOL

JUNE 21 – JULY 4, 2026

This intensive two-week course at Crow Canyon Archaeological Center in Southwest Colorado teaches practical cultural resource management (CRM) fieldwork skills for swifter entry into the private workforce.

FORMAT:

- Lectures
- Lab analyses
- In-field survey and site documentation
- Evening programs
- Field trips in the Mesa Verde region

CO-DIRECTED BY:

Dr. James Potter & Dr. Kelsey Hanson

GUEST LECTURERS: Theresa Pasqual, Fermin Lopez, Jason Chuipka, Shanna Diederichs, & Christopher Goodmaster

APPLY:

By March 15 for priority consideration.
Scan QR code or visit CrowCanyon.org

QUESTIONS?

Email fieldschool@CrowCanyon.org

EMPHASIS:

- Survey and site recording methods
- Artifact identification
- In-field photography
- Current field technology
- Descriptive writing for site records
- Evaluating sites for listing in the National Register of Historic Places
- Changes in the CRM industry
- Indigenous perspectives in archaeology

TUITION: $1,500

Includes instruction, equipment, housing, meals, and local transportation.

COLLEGE CREDIT:

Students may enroll in college course credit through Adams State University.

(CROW CANYON
ARCHAEOLOGICAL CENTER

Crow Canyon Archaeological Center
a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization
23390 Road K, Cortez, CO 81321
800-422-8975
CrowCanyon.org